

Becky Layne
Donations & Exhibit Coordinator
Wild Sheep Foundation

Biography

Since joining the staff of the Wild Sheep Foundation in 1991, Becky has served primarily as the Grant and Donations Coordinator, but has recently become the Exhibits Manager. A highlight of her career with the Foundation was participating in a sheep transplant in the Pecos Wilderness in New Mexico.

Originally from St. Louis, Becky's parents decided to leave the city behind and move to Wyoming in 1975. Once they arrived, they whole-heartedly embraced the lifestyle becoming avid hunters and enjoying the outdoors as much as possible. Becky spent many birthdays' in hunting camp and received her first gun on her 12th birthday while on a moose hunt near Jackson Hole, Wyoming. Currently, her two teenage daughters keep her busy attending sporting events and the various other activities they are involved with, but she stills makes time for hunting in the fall, and camping during the summer as much as possible.
